PROVO, Utah (May 23, 2007)

In the second of two weekend games, the BYU men's soccer team will host the Spokane Spiders.

This will be the first meeting ever between the two teams. The Spiders were not part of the PDL last season. So far, the Spiders are undefeated. "This should be a competitive game," said BYU head coach Chris Watkins. "We're excited to play a new team."

The Cougars hope to give the Spiders their first loss of the year.

The game is slated for 7:30 p.m., and will be played at South Stadium Field. Tickets are $6 for adults and $5 for students.
