

The Cougars Head to Washington

Kim Christenson
(801) 520-0778
kimchristenson@gmail.com

PROVO, Utah (June 22, 2007)

The BYU men's soccer team (6-1-1) is heading to Yakima, Washington this weekend to take on the Yakima Reds (2-2-3). The Cougars won the first meeting at home between the two teams in a 1-0 game.

The two teams will play each other on both Friday and Saturday night in an important mid-season stretch. The Cougars are in first place in the Northwest Division and will look to distance themselves from the other division contenders, while the Reds are only three points out of third place. "This is an extremely important weekend for us," BYU head coach Chris Watkins said. "It's tough to play a team back-to-back, but I'm confident our guys will be ready."

The Cougars are on a two game winning streak as they head into Yakima. Both games will be at 7:05 p.m. at Marquette Stadium.