Things are looking good for the Cougars after tonight's 2-1 win against their familiar rivals, the Ogden Outlaws.

"This was an important win for us," said head coach Chris Watkins. "It helped the team set a positive tone for the remainder of the season."

The first half of the game was scoreless, but not without chances. BYU took nine shots on goal and Ogden took five.

In the second half, Curtis Graham entered the game for Derek Taylor in the 52nd minute. Only one minute later, the ball bounced around in the Outlaws' box and Curtis Graham finished it for the Cougars. The Outlaws came back with a goal in the 74th minute when Jesse Kupfer found forward Kyle Christensen, who shot the ball into the far post and equalized the game. But BYU came back with another quick goal one minute later when Britt Osborne passed the ball to Steven Fellows, who tucked the ball into the back of the net.

Tonight's game was the last played on Haws Field. The rest of this season's games will be played at the renovated Stadium at South Field. On July 15th, the Cougars will take on the Real Salt Lake reserves. Tickets can be pre-purchased starting on July 10th at www.byutickets.com or at the gate. Prices are $6 for adults and $5 for students and children. Every fan will get a free stadium groundbreaking shirt while supplies last.
